

Image courtesy: kidsactivitiesblog

Materials:

3 small size spiral diaries
A card board
Glue
Markers

How to play

Stick the 3 diaries on the cardboard. On the first and third diary write all the consonants, on the second diary write all the vowels. Let children flip the pages and read the word. The point of the phonics flipchart is not so much to “spell” words, but to practice sounding out words. “P-A-G” is not a word, but the practice of sounding it out can help our children in future words, helping them grasp the concept of letters and how they form words.

3. Cube game

Take the printout of the printable cube. Follow the instructions given on the page to form a cube. First roll the cube with initial sound, then the middle vowel and at last final sound. Ask the child to now sound out the word.

Initial sound
Middle vowel
Final sound